The revised results framework of the GEF Adaptation Program is structured around three strategic objectives with associated outcomes and indicators. As of July 1, 2014, project and program proponents that seek funds from the LDCF and/or the SCCF for climate change adaptation will be requested to align their proposals with one or more of these strategic objectives.

Goal	Increase resilience to the adverse impacts of climate change in vulnerable developing countries, through both near- and long-term adaptation measures in affected sectors, areas and communities; leading to a reduction of expected socio-economic losses associated with climate change and variability.
Objective 1	Reduce the vulnerability of people, livelihoods, physical assets and natural systems to the adverse effects of climate change
Indicator 1	Number of direct beneficiaries
Outcome 1.1	Vulnerability of physical assets and natural systems reduced
Indicator 2	Type and extent of assets strengthened and/or better managed to withstand the effects of climate change
Outcome 1.2	Livelihoods and sources of income of vulnerable populations diversified and strengthened
Indicator 3	Population benefiting from the adoption of diversified, climate-resilient livelihood options

Outcome 2.2	Access to improved climate information and early-warning systems enhanced at regional, national, sub-national and local levels
Indicator 6	Risk and vulnerability assessments, and other relevant scientific and technical assessments carried out and updated
Indicator 7	Number of people/ geographical area with access to improved climate information services
Indicator 8	Number of people/ geographical area with access to improved, climate-related early-warning information

Annex 4: GEF Core Gender Indicators

Outcomes	Gender Indicators	Source of Verification
Project design fully integrates gender concerns.	1. Percentage of projects that have conducted gender analysis during project preparation.	Project Document at CEO endorsement
	2. Percentage of projects that have incorporated gender responsive project results framework (e.g. gender responsive output, outcome, indicator, budget, etc).
Project implementation ensures gender equitable participation in and benefit from project activities.	3. Share of women and men as direct beneficiaries of project.	Project Implementation Reports, Mid-Term Evaluation Reports, and Terminal Evaluation Reports.
	4. Share of convention related national reports incorporated gender dimensions (e.g. NBSAP, NAPA/NAP, TDA/SAP, etc.).
Project monitoring and evaluation give adequate attention to gender mainstreaming.	5. Percentage of monitoring and evaluation reports (e.g. Project Implementation Reports, Mid-term Evaluation Reports, and Terminal Evaluation Reports) that incorporates gender equality/women's empowerment issues and assess results/progress.	Project Implementation Reports (PIR), Mid-Term Evaluation Reports, and Terminal Evaluation Reports (TER).
